

Terms and Conditions

GDPR Information

Here at Jones and the Star we are GDPR compliant and we take your privacy seriously.

We will only use your personal information to administer the services you have requested from us.

At no point will we use your personal information to contact you for the purposes of marketing.

We do not sell information and we will not pass your personal details to a third party.

We do not collect any personal or banking details through e-commerce, this information is held and protected by the financial payment company.